Dear Parents,

Are you struggling with debt or finding it difficult to manage your money? Or maybe you are just curious to find out how you could stretch your budget or even generate some extra income.

We are pleased that we are now working with an organisation called All Inclusive Advice and Training (AIAT)

This organisation has offered to support our school and community by offering workshops and guidance for families at Ecclesbourne.

Who are they?

Established in 2009, All Inclusive Advice & Training (AIAT) is a multi-award-winning not-for-profit organisation. A social enterprise that provides advice, services and training regarding accounting, financial issues and business advice to empower individuals, communities and small businesses in Croydon and surrounding Greater London areas.

We assist those facing financial difficulties, providing advice and guidance that cover Budgeting, Money Management skills, and Debt advice by creating individual bespoke budget plans and exploring means to generate extra income.

In addition, we offer accredited courses in accounting and finance and non-accredited training through quality workshops, services and mentoring programmes to educate the Croydon community regarding financial management, improve their quality of life and give them a positive attitude towards their finances.

All Inclusive Advice and Training - Empowering people with practical financial knowledge!

If you are interested and would like to find out more, please come along to the initial introductory talks where you can hear more about what is on offer and ask any questions you have. Please note that this is a FREE service and is not a sales promotion. This is simply something that we are offering to help people in what we all recognise as a difficult financial time.

In the first instance, we are offering two workshops on Wednesday 9th November at 9.15 am and again at 2.30 pm.
