SCIENCE WEEK

20th June-24th June 2022

We are delighted to launch a new Science Week this year! We will start our week on Monday 20th June with an assembly hosted by Laura Ashfield from the Surrey Wildlife Trust. In her 'Action for Insects' talk, she will encourage children to think about how they can help wildlife, particularly insects in our school grounds. The fun will continue on Tuesday 21st June, with an exciting science show.

Together with raising the profile of science, we want to develop our children's enquiry skills through enjoyable and memorable activities. Each year group will have the opportunity to research their own science topic or question during the week before reporting their results on Friday 24th June to the rest of the school. Nursery and Rainbows will run some plant growth experiments in different conditions. Reception classes will explore changes of state in materials caused by heating. Year 1 classes will look at some of the properties of water, such as buoyancy. Year 2 classes will look at how water circulates in plants by capillary action. Each class will compile a book to celebrate their achievements.

We are looking forward to sharing some of their amazing experiments with you via our website news stories next week.
