

Friday 21 May 2021

About the grey wolf

Interestingly The grey wolf's body is 1-1.6 m. The tail of the grey wolf is 31-51 cm. Did you know that the powerful body of a wolf is built from Stamina rather than Speed. It can cover 60 km a day when Hunting.

Hunting:

As a predator The Grey wolf has a very large skull with jaws that can exert a biting force of 15 kg/sq. cm. Wolves use their excellent sense of smell, acute size and sharp hearing to track their prey.

Did you know

Amazingly, their thick coats varies in colour from really white to almost black.

Fun Fact

The grey wolf has been the notorious villain of fables and fairy stories for centuries, yet this highly intelligent and sociable animal has done little to warrant its terrifying reputation.

CONSERVATION

Although organizations exist to protect the grey wolf its future is by no means guaranteed.

Several subspecies are now facing extinction.

In Europe it is still shot despite legal protection.