Diet

Diplodocus had to swallow its food whole because they don't have any teeth. Diplodocus used its long neck to reach food high up in the trees.

Appearance

A Diplodocus looks big but because of that it has a brain the size of a dog's. And sheep! they are disgusting, not good looking brain.

Lifestyle

When a Diplodocus lays its eggs it takes up to 3-6 months to hatch.

Habitat

These dinosaurs lived in the open green forest. They lived in herds together so the adults could protect the young.

Fun fact

A Diplodocus cannot sit on their eggs. If they did their weight would squish their cute eggs. Because they weighed more than 100 buses!
