WALT publish a fable.

One sunny day, the Hare and Tortoise were fighting and the Hare said, "I'm so fast it will take a day for you to win." he said boastfully.

"Are you show you arrogant Hare you mit fall asleep in the race so I will win the race."

They chose fox as the Judge the Hare said "You are going to lose". Hare laughing rudely.

"OK rude Hare let's see what happens". replied Tortoise sensibly. So we started the race and fox said 3 2 1 1 go! Hare zoomed quickly and the Tortoise slowly walked in a cupel minit's later the Hare slept on the soft, green grass and the Tortoise quietly walked past the Hare. After the Tortoise pasted the Hare he saw his friends cheering for him that made Hare wake up

And he rushed to the finish line and he won the race and his friends cheered for him and that was the end of the story. Moral is Don't judge people by their weariness.
