Walt - write a diary of events

Dear Diary,

This morning without a sound, I ~~trapped~~ hopped out of bed and looked around. After, I got dressed and left my slumber to take a walk but all of a sudden... a gang of 15 people started chasing me. I ran like the wind, and didn't stop during that moment they were all shouting different things like "get here now" "hey come back"... I had no choice so I turned the corner and slipped in the mud but they were eventually going to turn the corner soon so I threw myself over the wall... but you'll never believe where I landed

I landed in a grave yard where dead people were but there was a shed where I stored my boat I had no choice but to I dragged it out to sea and jumped in it.

As quick as a flash, I sailed out and didn't stop. Hours later it eventually became night where I ended up on a deserted island. The stars gleamed and the moon glimmered faintly through the mist.
