

Dear diary,

Today is the best day I ever had since my parents left this abandoned, flooded, awful land (Norwich). And they left me behind without ever knowing that I couldn't get that boat to escape.

I was all alone and every single day it was hard to live without any food, even it was hard to breathe in these deserted streets. Every day I was getting weaker and weaker, but then, I saw the land getting smaller more quickly than I thought! "The sea is rising, I need to escape!", I said. Then I found... A boat!, I named it Lyca and hid it so no one found about it, and steal it from me. I quickly packed all my things and ran.

I thought that it would be good if I escaped with my friend Natasha who was also left behind with me, but then shock flew through my face...

Somehow, someone found about the boat I had been hiding (Lyca). Shaking with fear I ran from there because now I didn't had any choice. I had been betrayed from my friend Natasha. I made a big mistake telling her about my boat and my plan of escape. Even the sun didn't wanted to shine on this awful land! I did not knew that Natasha was in a gang which was following me.

My feet pounded on those deserted streets, not far away I heard Natasha "come back here we won't do anything to you", said Natasha.

"Just, just take us with you" said another voice.

With fear, a single tear run down my face. As I knew, ~~they~~ they were not as good as they were showing, so I ran non-stopping. It felt like my heart would burst! But I didn't stoped, I was determined to find my parents, and live happily like before.

I took my boat I sat on it, and I saw the gang (there were 7 people in the gang) they got close to me but I rowed in the ocean. I felt unconscious but still, I needed to escape!...
