My dear husband Macbeth, I have guided you through all of this, we shall be victorious together. Everyone is jealous of your bravery and strength you have so many qualities that will make you successful as King. This mad King will stay over the years and take what's rightfully yours. My glorious, brave, unstoppable Macbeth Has the deed been done?

Macbeth thy crown that hitherto on the King's head shall be on thy head for as long as thou shalt live. We shall abide forever in the King's luxurious abode. For this to happen you need to have done the deed. I trust you enough to know that the deed is done for the Witches planned this moment.

The glory is thine to hold, to keep and to use: Kill the King and it will be yours to keep. Thou shalt make me queen for I have guided you through many obstacles and thou have not have made it this far without my help. Let me be to more of a part of your journey by making me queen.

Well done
Muzi
you
used Swahili
language
very effectively
