Introduction

Did you know that, the stone age is 99% of human history! ~~surprisingly~~ The stone age can be divided into 3 periods. The Paleolithic (old stone age) Mesolithic (middle stone age) and the Neolithic (new stone age).

Forest foods

Did you know that, stone age humans did not just eat meat they also ate plants too so that they were healthy. Also they ate fish, nuts, and fresh, sweet fruits and they drank water from deer bladders. ~~Humans~~ Amazingly stone age humans relied on the forest for food because farming was not invented yet.

Tools

surprisingly, stone age people used to call axes thunder stones because they thought axes were made from lightning. A straight blade was harder than a hand axe. Stone age humans regularly needed to cut meat, scrape skins, and cut up plants.

Fun facts

Did you know that cow antlers ~~can~~ can make high and low pitched noises. Astonishingly you can make a fire with 2 rocks some straw saying fire brother come. also you need to blow on the straw.

Shelter

~~interesting~~ Interestingly deer skin ~~was~~ covered the cave floor for warmth because deer skin is warm. Astonishingly stone age roof-thatching techniques are still used for houses in some parts of the world today because it is water proof.

Clothes

Deer skin leather is very hard - protection because deer skin is ~~hard~~ ~~very~~ very soft. In the cold months stone age people wore animal skin. some clothes were woven from the stems of stinging nettles.
