

Varmint Liberation Campaign HQ, 1 Freedom Street, Varmintshire, V3R M1N

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing with reference to the Varmints - an urgent pressing matter: imminent extinction. Varmints, quite gentle creatures filled with veins of innocence, are in aggravating turmoil. Research has explained, the once placid land is invaded. An extremely elaborated endeavour has sadly succeeded. As a result, the luxurious land of light green savagely devoured by ferocious fires calamitously created by the Others.

Undoubtedly, it is certain that these animals are greatly endangered; a hostile impact is vastly accelerating: they are in need of aid. Furthermore, torrential explosions boom cataclysmically, a result - hundreds or thousands of homes destroyed, doomed, devoured deviously by those merciless Others of tragedy. If this was your home, would you be pleased? This is unfair. In the same way, land was darkly damaged by the fiendish fools.

In this particular situation, there have been big changes on the economy and the environment. For instance, 49% of land has been covered in acid pollution. Dwelling in a peaceful environment, they enjoyed their lives until the Others came: they caused havoc. Big buildings valiantly scrape the sky, the grass ripped from the grounds. Birds are closing into imminent extinction - terminal darkness contaminates the land. The once abundance of food now a scarcity. Would you enjoy this?

In conclusion, you and I both know that they are truly marvel creatures: my great request to you is to start a Varmints Protection Act in order to save our fellow friends and eradicate the Others. Without a doubt, you are great, hence I anticipate a reply in three weeks.

Yours Sincerely,
Hammad Malik
