

Dear sir/madam,

This is Martin a resident of the field. I am writing to you because I am deeply concerned about some creatures (that we call Varmints) causing a great deal of disturbance. These Varmints have turned our fields into a city. How are they getting away with this?! This is a urgent situation.

Life before was joyful, with bees that hummed and birds that sang. Everyone was content and overjoyed. Our fields had flowers and moles; where have they all gone? Not one cloud roamed the area but now there are! They have all shifted into a gloomy, grey colour.

We are living in a hostile environment. You are probably imagening a few flowers gone, but NO it is hundreds. Millions of skyscrapers are making there way this second. There is so much noise, no one can think. Is this what you want?

They have demolished our city and now it is overrun by these revolting beasts. If this carries on we could suffer from extinction. Our community is in serious danger.

We urge you to stop this disgracefull behaviour. Do you even care? I hope you are as determined as me! WE CAN'T LIVE LIKE THIS! I implore you to stop!!! Once you have read this letter, get rid of these vile varmints.

Your sensirly,

Martin Field
