

Long ago a beast was in a garden and she was colourless because she put paint on her self She felt lonely so she set off on a quest to find some other beasts.
She went to the ~~city~~ city and she is called daisy she saw some people then they ran away then they came to meet daisy they liked daisy she still felt lonely so one night daisy slipped out the park she ran back home then she found some more beast in the garden they came from paris to see daisy they danced all night long.

Then the other beasts woke up and Daisy was gone they looked everywhere in the house they couldn't find her she was sleeping the whole time then they finally Daisy woke up and found her mummy and was happy ever after.
